

Getting around in Aarhus

In Aarhus we say that everything is within walking distance and when you arrive to the city it is obvious to see why. If you arrive at the train station it is only a few minutes' walk before arriving at your hotel or conference venue.

By walking

The entire city is clean, compact and well-organised, which makes walking an excellent and enjoyable way to get around.

To walk from DJM to the city center (main shopping street) takes 5-10 minutes.

By taxi

To book a taxi, please call this telephone number (+45) 8948 4848 or ask your hotel receptionist. There is also a taxi stand right outside the main exit of the train station and conveniently located taxi stands all over the city.

By bus

Every yellow bus is equipped with a ticket machine in the middle of the bus (coins and self service only).

Every blue bus requires to enter in the front and to buy the ticket with the driver or online, for example using the Midttrafik app (Apple App Store – Google Play Store)

Bus tickets for travel within the city limits (Municipality of Aarhus limits) cost 22 DKK.

Please check the Midttrafik website for more information on busses and city links.

By Letbanen

Getting around in Aarhus is also easy with Denmark's first light rail, Letbanen, operated by the company Midttrafik. Stops are located throughout Aarhus, making it easy to experience the city. The area around the Central Station and Dokk1 is the main junction point. Tickets for travel within the city limits (Municipality of Aarhus limits) cost 22 DKK. Remember to buy your ticket before entering Letbanen because you cannot buy tickets in the light rail train.

By cycling

Denmark is an ideal country for cycling. There are not many steep hills and there are many safe cycling paths. Look out for the cycle paths (cykelstier).

If you'd like to rent a bike, you'll find a few options in the following link: Rent a bike

It might otherwise be a good idea to ask at the hotel reception or your host.
